Fashion Phenom

Tory Burch, the designer known for bold patterns and color, tunics, and ballet flats (named after mom Reva), partnered with The Beach and Country Guild at the recent opening of her boutique in Fashion Valley. The store was crowded with shoppers who sipped wine while rifling through racks of chic clothes and accessories. In the midst of the hubbub, the petite, blonde Burch remained unflappable. "Things will get done," she said calmly. "I don't get caught up with the little things." The busy mother of three young boys, Burch has become a fashion phenom, winning design awards and opening a dozen stores. "It's a surprise and so exciting," she says of her near-overnight success. "I'm not going to be jaded by this, I can tell you that." Part of the event proceeds benefit United Cerebral Palsy of San Diego. — Andrea Naversen

Cirque Sculptures

Laguna Beach-based sculptor and gallery owner Richard MacDonald recently celebrated the grand opening of The Art of Richard MacDonald Fine Art Gallery, located in the newly renovated "O" Theatre Lobby at Bellagio. The event was attended by approximately 200 guests, as well as Cirque du Soleil performers and founder Guy Laliberte. MacDonald is the first and only artist given behind-the-scenes access to Cirque du Soleil, allowing him to capture the beauty, athleticism, and human spirit of the performers.

Red Dress Ball

San Diego gets its own version of Dancing with the Stars June 28 at the Red Dress Ball to benefit Childhelp USA. The evening features entertainment by Dancing with the Pros, professional dancers who'll invite guests to strut their stuff on the dance floor. The popular dance band, The Heroes, also will perform. Mistress of ceremonies is actress Joyce Bulifant, a veteran of TV's The Mary Tyler Moore Show and Match Game. Daran Grimm and Ron McMillan chair the event at the Sheraton Resort & Spa in Carlsbad, which includes dinner, and live and silent auctions. Childhelp is dedicated to preventing child abuse and neglect, as well as providing care and counseling for young victims. (619/295-0121, www.childhelp.org) — Andrea Naversen
